Beneath the stunning exterior, everything about the new Neuron T5 is designed to reduce the chances of you missing a fish. The advanced E-motion® sensing technology (patent pending) gives you amazing sensitivity, with eight settings, plus volume and tone controls – and even tells you which direction the fish is headed in. And to ensure it doesn't let you down, the class-leading electronics are ultrasealed against moisture and designed to squeeze astonishingly long life out of the battery. Take one on your next trip and become one of the few.
